IMQ & PACE are proud to present their biannual leadership program which offers physicians the knowledge, confidence and skills required to lead an effective and dynamic medical staff organization.

The program addresses:

- How to be a successful leader
- Changing requirements and expectations
- Using data for quality
- Developing and implementing an Aging Physician policy
- Communicating effectively
- Handling disruptive and impaired professionals
- Maximizing Well Being Committee's effectiveness
- Disaster Planning, including active shooter
- Legal considerations
- Preparing for the future

An interactive learning environment led by expert faculty who engage participants through self-assessments, Q&A, role playing and case studies.

Here's what attendees have to say:

- I attended this conference four years ago and found it useful again.
- Great opportunity to combine QRM interest/goals with MD leadership goals.
- Very much enjoyed the role playing.
- Good coverage of leadership techniques—Great speakers; all "experts" in their field (much appreciated)
- All very good and relevant topics; Covered a great deal of practical information in a brief period of time; Keep offering!
- I found this program extremely useful. I would definitely encourage attendance of my fellow medical staff leaders to future meetings.
